

100x Safer

Be safe and shop at a low traffic, uncongested specialty store

According to the Denver Post, it's accepted that the COVID-19 virus can spread not only through droplets but also through aerosols that are spread when speaking, coughing or sneezing. These tiny particles can stay airborne for nearly 15 minutes. As a result, the Post writes that "merely being in a shared space with a person who has the virus could lead to spread". Today, big box stores such as Home Depot and Lowes average 2,000+ customers a day in each of their stores while at Appliance Factory & Mattress Kingdom we average 15-20 customers a day. We have an average of 10,000 sq ft per store which from a distancing standpoint, giving our customers approximately 500 sq ft of space. Conversely, a customer at Home Depot will get an average of just 50 sq ft of distancing space. In one of our stores, an individual's exposure to the virus is exponentially decreased due to significantly reduced traffic.

In our safer shopping environment we assure you that we are always wearing a mask and keeping a six feet distance from our customers at all times. Shop 100x safer at Appliance Factory & Mattress Kingdom!
